There are something more than eight thousand ways of getting rich—but the only safe way is to advertise in the North Mississippi Herald.

Iowa claims to have a rooster that lays eggs. Suppose the bloom' chump got so accustomed to advertising for some hens that did not come up to Mr. Carlyle Knykendall and family moved Wednesday into Mrs. Lula Blount's residence on Wyle street where they will make their future home.

Feel languid, weak, run down? Headache? Stomach "off"? A good remedy is Burdock Blood Bitters. Ask your druggist. Price, $1.25. specifications that he had to make good himself. The North Mississippi Herald always tries to lay an egg—but we will not promise to make an egg for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bell and little daughter, left Tuesday night for Clovis, New Mexico where they will visit relatives and friends for a couple of weeks.

The honest advertiser knows all the time that he is not trying to keep the public from knowing anything they want to know about his merchandise.

FOR SALE—Grocery and Dry Goods store, splendid location, good trade. Will trade for farm land. A real opportunity for the right party. Box 681, WATER VALLEY, Miss.

Mr. W. J. Barnes, of Water Valley, spent a short while in the City Beautiful this week, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barnes and family.—Grenada Sentinel.

Wednesday a large number of business men and prominent citizens were summoned to Oxford as witnesses in the Carl Blackwell case. The case was continued until tomorrow (Saturday) when they will have to appear again.

"I have taken eight bottles of Tanlac and have actually gained 40 pounds in weight and feel better and stronger than I have felt before in twenty-five years," says O. H. Mahaffy, of Nashville, Tenn. W. T. TRUSTY DRUG CO.

Mr. W. Y. Barber, the aged father of the editor, has been under the doctor's care during the week. He was taken very sick while down town Friday and was carried home in an auto. The doctor pronounced his ailment as flu with complications of malaria. He is much better today and daily gaining strength.

Mr. John Henry Wagner has so far improved from his recent attack of pneumonia that he was enabled to leave the hospital Wednesday. Thursday accompanied by his mother they left Manlius for a trip up the Hudson river and intend to visit a friend up the river for a week or ten days they then will return to Water Valley.

Mr. George Kuykendall whose home is at Oakland, is now with the Chadwick Barber Shop on Wood street. Mr. Kuykendall is a fine barber and since coming to this city has made many warm friends. He invites his friends to call on him at his new location with the Chadwick Barber Shop and will appreciate their patronage. Call and see him when in need of anything in the tonsorial line and "Let George do it."

Messrs. Wade and Coleman connected with the I. C. development bureau, spent Monday and Tuesday in the city advising and assisting the members of the local truck growers association in the planting and care of the early vegetables. Quite a lot of cabbage and peas have been planted and things are moving along very satisfactory. It is reported that the association hopes to have at least 2,000 acres planted in truck this season—pretty good for a starter!

"They're killin' men and women for the wearin' of the green" didn't seem to influence Rev. Wayne Alliston when he selected the color of the paint which painters artistically applied to the lawn fence posts and light standards of the Baptist Church during the week. It may be that Bro. Alliston has a tender feeling for "Old Erin," or else he is just partial to green color, anyway the appearance of the church lawn has been greatly improved by the application of the new paint.

THE WOMANS MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

The Womens Missionary Conference, At Water Valley, May be for historic reference.

For future generation to find the right of Christianity, to force its great fights;

For the loving Father on earth, here, With the great weapon of daily, sweet prayer.

This body of splendid women will not shirk A single duty in their annual good work,

In helping the poor, the blind, all in need, Regardless of their former servitude, or creed.

The hope of a very bright future is theirs

Confirmed by daily, sweet prayer. Theirs is not the work of vice and sin, But the work of pure hearts within;

Neither is it a work of hate and spite; But the work of Christian love and right,

Yea, a work of pure hearts so very fair, Sealed in daily, sweet prayer.

The noble hearts in conference convene Where they are business-like, very serene,

And where their hearts beat for all that's good Where they have for the Master, ever stood,

In this onward march with special care, Made possible by daily, sweet prayer.

This conference opened under heaven's reign In a pure service for the Master's gain

With pure hearts seeking their goal, Trough the beautiful story, so sweetly told

In a conference, in its tenth year, Which closed in daily, sweet prayer.

—Dr. S. J. SMITH
Water Valley, Miss.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Of Course everyone knows the principles of wireless telephony have been with us since time began. We just didn't get round to using them.

We were too busy chasing dollars. Now instead of hollerin' "Hello Central," we say "Hello China" and nobody thinks anything about it. So we can all go to sleep again for another fifty years, and once more let George do it. Isn't it funny? Every one of us is a George, and right within ourselves lie possibilities greater than all the wireless telephones in the world, characteristics hidden away that we don't know exist, resources we never develop. Of course we're going to be driven to do better, so we might as well get a move on and escape the punishment. We wouldn't have any steam heat or houses today if the rain and the wind hadn't beaten a little activity into us. Best thing we can do it seems would be to avoid a licking if we can, and dig up some of our possibilities.

When a plumber makes a mistake, he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake, it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake, it's just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it.

When a judge makes a mistake, it becomes the law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake, nobody knows the difference.

But when the editor makes a mistake—good night!—Exchange.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER LOUISIANA FARMER

Leads to the Arrest of Eight Men Who are Jailed at Winnsboro, La.

Natchez, Miss., March 13.—Eight men are held in parish jail at Winnsboro, La., charged with the murder of Brown Culpepper, at Holly Grove, a small settlement near Wisner. The men under arrest are: P. M. Usery, Sr., Albert Farrington, P. M. Usery, Jr., J. C. Farrington, Charley Parson, George Wactor, Charlie Calender and Eugene Bradshaw.

In a statement to the Natchez Democrat tonight, Sheriff Jesse Gilbert of Winnsboro said that Culpepper was killed Saturday night between 10 and 12 o'clock by a party of eight men.

At an inquest conducted on Sunday by Dr. J. B. Rogers it was learned that a party of unmasked men went to the farm where Culpepper lived last year, but failing to find him drove their automobiles to the place of D. K. Minter, where they left their cars and walked about a mile to the house of J. R. Hutto, where Culpepper was found. It was stated that Culpepper was called and when he refused to come out the party entered the house and two of them shot him. It was said that following this, evidence indicated that the men went to the Minter place and drove off in different directions.

Sheriff Gilbert said most of the men arrested live in the vicinity of Wisner. He said that so far no motive has been discovered for the killing of Culpepper, who was a farmer in limited circumstances.

Culpepper had two small children who were living with him and are now being cared for by Sheriff Gilbert.

Culpepper's wife is in Natchez. She said she had not been living with her husband for the past two years and that he was here a few days ago, seeking to compel her to agree to a divorce.

At a date not later than May 15, 1922, the three best essays from each contesting high school in Mississippi should be forwarded by the principal or high school teacher to the Service Bureau, Agricultural College in charge of the contest in Mississippi.

The essay judged best for the State by a committee appointed by President Hull, of the A. & M. College, will be submitted to a national committee to be appointed by the United States Commissioner of Education to compete for the $4,000 scholarship prize against winning essays from 47 other states.

The essays, not to exceed 700 words in length, are to be graded on a basis of knowledge of the subject, composition, and appearance.

Here is presented a fine opportunity for ambitious and diligent students, who will, incidentally to their research into the subject, acquire a range of useful information on one of the most vital economic problems before the people of the land at this time.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it." At all druggists.
